

January/February:

- New Projects Build on ICPRB Expertise in 2004
- Chairman's Report
- Supreme Court Grants Virginia River Rights
- Help Take Out the Trash on April 3
- Watching the River Flow
- ICPRB Cosponsors 2004 Potomac River Sojourn
- C&O Canal Through-Hike Celebrates 50th Anniversary

March/April :

- They Took Out the Trash
- Plenty to Go Around: Local Volunteers Help Foundation in Month-Long Cleanup of Potomac, Anacostia
- Watching the River Flow
- Bay Partner's Strategies Guide River Initiatives
- Whittings Neck Residents Work to Curb Potomac Bank Erosion
- Sign On for the Potomac River Sojourn
- Squeezin' Season
- Potomac River Swim, June 5

May/June :

- Snakeheads Found in Potomac: Red Herring, Fishzilla, or Something In-Between?
- Non-Native Catfish of the Potomac
- Watching the River Flow
- Anacostia Watershed Society Brings Pollution to the Forefront
- ICPRB Potomac Annual Report Available
- Potomac River Swim Moves to Lake
- ICPRB Office Moves in July
- Potomac Wade-In Sets Record

July/August :

2004 Potomac Basin Reporter Issues

Written by Administrator - Last Updated Friday, 29 August 2008 13:17

- The Greening of the Potomac: Algae Blooms in Potomac Reminiscent of 1980s
- 2004 Potomac River Sojourn: A Paddle on the Wild Side
- Stored Water Releases for Supply Unlikely
- USGS, ICPRB Launch Real-Time Groundwater Webpage
- Watching the River Flow
- Potomac Stewards Pass Away

September/October :

- ICPRB Coordinates Drinking Water Protection Group
- A Century of Data at Our Fingertips
- Potomac Yields History and Treasure in Forgotten Shipwrecks
- ICPRB Assists Watershed Organizations with Funding
- Watching the River Flow
- American Shad Continue Comeback in Potomac
- ICPRB Meeting, Open House in December

November/December :

- Potomac in 2004: High Flows Dominate Environment
- River Critters: Plankton are Base of Potomac's Aquatic Ecosystems
- New Commissioners Appointed to ICPRB
- Watching the River Flow
- ICPRB Hosts Open House