

January/February:

- Hagerstown Discharge Sparks ICPRB Action
- Chairman's Report
- ICPRB's 2002 Projects Continue Building Interstate Partnerships
- Watching the River Flow
- Potomac Sojourn Set for June
- Don't Forget the April 6 Potomac Watershed Cleanup!
- Potomac River Awareness Day May 18

March/April :

- Drought Grips Basin
- Water Resources Critical to Basin's Future
- Potomac Cleanup Continues to Grow
- Watching the River Flow
- D.C. Mayor Inaugurates Rain Garden at Earth Day Celebration
- Annual Potomac Swim Set for June 1
- ICPRB Business Meeting June 11

May/June :

- Migratory Fish Restoration Meeting Goals, Showing Gains
- 2002 Monocacy River Paddle Raises River Awareness
- River Critters: Few See This Exotic Yet Regular Visitor
- CO-OP Monitors River Flows, Reservoir Releases Likely
- Watching the River Flow
- 31 Swimmers Cross Potomac to Improve Environment
- You've Waited All This Time...And Now They're Here!

July/August :

- Sojourn Brings Paddlers Close to the River

2002 Potomac Basin Reporter Issues

Written by Administrator - Last Updated Friday, 29 August 2008 14:28

- Students Provide a New View of the Watershed
- Researchers Learn As Drought Continues
- Watching the River Flow
- Enhanced Spill Model Provides Protection
- Grow Native in October
- State of Bay Report Published

September/October :

- ICPRB, Metropolitan Water Providers End 2002 Drought Operations
- Commissioner Philip Ogilvie Passes Away in September
- Happy 30th, Clean Water Act...
- And Many Returns...
- ICPRB Searching for Office Space
- Striped Bass Reproduction Near Average in Potomac; American Shad Population Continues Growth
- Boating Restrictions Made Permanent

November/December :

- Research Indicates Blue Plains Nitrogen Removal Significant Influence for Tidal Potomac
- BNR Approved for Potomac Wastewater Plant
- Conference Explores Shared Restoration Strategies
- ICPRB's New Website Online
- Watching the River Flow
- Survey on Bay Watershed Health Shows Concern, Strong Knowledge Lacking
- A Good Day's Swim
- Help Needed for Potomac River Watershed Cleanup