

DISCUSSION

- 1) What aspects of land-based climate change mitigation would most benefit from interstate cooperation?
- 2) How can the Mid-Atlantic States best capture the potential of voluntary carbon markets and prepare for a future national regulatory market?
- 3) What major existing programs should be used to support and account for land-based climate change mitigation in the region?